

I would like to say that XM Instant Traffic and Weather helps me on my commute to work and travel home. Weather is always something that I use to do my planning schedule after work duties and other activities. My local radio stations report on traffic and weather are so brief that they will inform the news every 15min taking time that I could use to find different route of driving. Weather is important to know in a daily life.